

SYRACUSE STAGE

Going to the Theatre Social Story

We are going to Syracuse Stage.

We will park the car and then walk to the entrance of Syracuse Stage.

Outside of the front doors of Syracuse Stage there is a courtyard with red and gray bricks and a metal art display. The metal display lights up different colors. Some of the red bricks make loud noises when you step on them.

When I get there, I will see a big sign saying Syracuse Stage.

We may have to stand in line to get into the doors. I will try to stand nicely and quietly while we wait.

We need to have tickets to see the show

My parents or family members may have brought tickets from home or we may get them from the ticket window.

Once we have our tickets, we will go into the lobby.

A theatre usher may greet us.

A theatre usher is a friendly helper. I can ask the theatre usher for help.

They wear black clothes and a badge on a red necklace.

The doors into the bathroom are in the lobby.

I will let my parents or family know if I have to go to the bathroom. I can go to the bathroom any time I need to.

The toilet will flush when I stand up. The flushing toilet can be loud and flush more than one time.

The faucets are automatic. I do not need to turn on water to wash my hands.

When I put my hand under the paper towel machine, it will give me a paper towel automatically. I do not need to touch the machine. It can be loud.

There is a water fountain in between the bathrooms. If I need a drink of water, I can ask for one.

The theatre has two sections, the orchestra and the balcony.

My ticket will say if I am sitting in the orchestra or the balcony.

If I am in the orchestra, I will walk through the lobby to the doors to the theatre. This is a picture of the lobby.

There will also be a quiet space here I can go to if I need a break during the show.

If the ticket says balcony, I will walk up the stairs or take the elevator. A theatre usher can take me to the elevator.

This is the upstairs lobby. If I go up the stairs, this is where I will be.

There will also be a quiet space here I can go to if I need a break during the show.

The theatre usher will scan my ticket.

The scanner machine beeps each time the usher scans a ticket.

The ticket tells me where to sit. Where I sit is not a choice.

The usher will also give me a program.

The program is a book that tells me about the people who helped make the show.

Programs have pictures of the actors and tell me the names of the songs I will hear in the show.

When I get to my seat, I will sit down.

I will be sitting next to my family. I might have my family on one side of me and a person I don't know on the other side of me.

When I am sitting, sometimes a person will walk in front of me.

If a person is in my way to see the show, I can politely ask the person "Can you please move out of my way? Thank you."

After each song, some people will clap.

Clapping is nice because it tells the actors you liked their song.

If I want to clap, I can. I don't have to clap.

If the clapping is too loud, I can cover my ears or hold my family's hand.

People clap only for a short time then the clapping is over.

In the middle of the show, there will be a break. This break is called intermission.

During the break, many people will stand up to go get a drink or to use the bathroom.

If I want to, I can ask for a snack or a drink.

I can also ask to use the bathroom if I need to. There may be a line to the bathroom. I will wait in the line until it is my turn.

After the break, everyone will come back and sit down in their seats again.

At the end of the show, the actors will come to the front of the stage and bow while singing and dancing. This is called a curtain call.

After curtain call, many people will clap. Clapping is nice because it tells the actors you liked their show. If I want to clap, I can. I don't have to clap.

Some people will also stand up while clapping. This is called a standing ovation. If I want to stand and clap, I can. I don't have to stand up.

If the clapping is too loud, I can cover my ears or hold my family's hand.

Special thanks to Theatre Development Fund's Autism Theatre Initiative for serving as an advisor, www.tdf.org/autism

This Sensory Friendly performance is sponsored by:

UPSTATE
MEDICAL UNIVERSITY

&

The Jim and Julie Boenheim Foundation